

SUTTON COLDFIELD GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

HOMEWORK POLICY

Date: JULY 2021
Revision Date: FEBRUARY 2022

Introduction

This policy outlines the approach to homework at Sutton Coldfield Grammar School for Girls. Its purpose is to provide guidance to staff, students and parents/carers in order to support students to maintain a balance between their academic studies and other aspects of their lives.

Homework is work that is set to be done outside the timetabled curriculum. It contains an element of independent study, in that it is not usually directly supervised by a teacher. It enables students to demonstrate their understanding and enhances students' learning, improves achievement and develops study skills and as such, is an integral part of the curriculum.

Not all homework is done at home. For some students who find it hard to work at home, it may be necessary or desirable to complete the task at school. After-school homework clubs are available to support students with this.

Aims

- Homework consolidates/ extends learning covered in class.
- Encourages intellectual curiosity and a love of learning.
- Prepares students for new learning.
- Enables students to access resources not available in the classroom.
- Enables subject content to be covered in greater breadth and depth.
- Enables students to develop research skills.
- Enables students to establish effective study habits through independent learning.
- Supports and challenges students to meet individual needs.

Expectations

- Homework is only set where it fulfils one or more of the above aims.
- Homework is not set for the sake of it and when it is set, objectives, success criteria and deadlines are made clear.
- Subject teachers will communicate to students the day on which homework will be set for their subject each week and only set homework on the given day.
- It is recommended that homework is done on the night it is set. For students in Years 7-11, there will be more than one day between the day homework is being set and the day it is due in.

Year	Recommended Amount of Homework to be set
7	Up to 30 minutes per subject per week
8	Up to 30 minutes per subject per week
9	30 - 45 minutes per subject per week
10 and 11	On average 1 hour per subject per week.
12 and 13	On average 5 hours per week per A Level subject

Roles and Responsibilities

Subject Teacher

- At the start of each academic year, communicate to students the day homework will be set each week (and ideally the day it will be due to handed in)
- Set homework in line with the whole school policy and record it on Teams
- Provide a clear explanation of the expectations from a piece of homework, including the length of time to be spent upon it and the deadline for completion.
- Communicate the purpose of the homework task and ensure time is provided for students to ask questions about their homework.
- Ensure that a variety of different types of homework are set over a period of time.
- Ensure that feedback is provided within one week where work is submitted and that it informs future lesson planning.
- Monitor completion of homework, offering support to students who are experiencing difficulties in completing homework.
- Employ rewards and sanctions using the school's Behaviour for Learning policy.
- Consider each student's completion of homework to inform judgements provided in Progress Reviews.

Student

- Listen to homework instructions in class.
- Ensure details of the homework are accessed from Teams
- Ensure that homework is completed, ideally on the night it is set, and handed in to meet the deadline.
- Be selective and focus upon relevant information only.
- Attempt all work and give their best, ensuring that adequate time is allocated to the task.
- Inform the class teacher of any difficulties before the deadline.

Head of Department

- Ensure appropriate homework is being set by subject teachers.
- Follow up on-going concerns raised by subject teachers with regard to individual students not completing homework.

Head of Year

- Monitor referrals raised by subject teachers with regard to missed deadlines / failure of individual students to apply sufficient effort to homework tasks.
- Intervene as necessary in response to the above by clarifying whole school expectations and offering support in improving organisation.

Form Tutor

- Liaise with subject teachers as appropriate about students' completion of homework, support students and refer concerns to Heads of Year following interventions.

Parent/Carer

- Provide an appropriate environment conducive to learning.
- Discuss learning with the student as appropriate.
- Contact school via email or telephone with any concerns relating to homework.
